

François Henrot

Non-Executive Director

Born in 1949, François Henrot holds a degree in Economics and is a graduate of the Institut d'Études Politiques de Paris (Sciences Po). He is also an alumnus of the École Nationale d'Administration (ENA) and Stanford University.

With more than 36 years of experience in the real estate sector, he has held senior leadership roles within the Rothschild Group, including Chairman of the Investment Bank and Vice-Chairman of the Supervisory Board of Rothschild & Co, where he served as a board member and, until 2020, as a censor.

He currently serves as Lead Independent Director and Vice-Chairman of the Board of Directors of Rexel, one of the world's leading distributors of electrical supplies. He is also Chairman of the Board of COPEBA, a Belgian private investment firm.

His career has spanned both the public and private sectors. He began at the French Conseil d'État and the Directorate-General of Telecommunications, before moving to the Compagnie Bancaire and Paribas. For the past two decades, he has been with the Rothschild Group.

He is co-author of several books, including Le Banquier et le Philosophe, a reflection on the 2007–2008 financial crisis.
