

Karim Beqqali

Chairman

With over 18 years of experience in real estate, Karim Beqqali began his career in investment at Nexity in Madrid, then joined CBRE, where he held several roles across multiple geographies. He first worked with CBRE London (City Investment Desk), then with CBRE Dubai during the launch of its Middle East operations, and later with CBRE Madrid.

In 2006, he established the CBRE office in Casablanca, covering the North African region, and became its Managing Director. He also served on the Management Boards of both CBRE MENA (Middle East & North Africa) and CBRE Spain.

Under his leadership, CBRE Casablanca grew from 2 to 38 professionals in just seven years, becoming the market leader in the region.

He later became CEO of Ynaxis Group and its subsidiaries.

Karim Beqqali is a graduate of ESSEC Business School and completed his preparatory classes at Sainte-Geneviève (Versailles). He is also an alumnus of the “High Potentials Leadership Program” at Harvard Business School. He is fluent in French, English, Arabic, and Spanish.